Enrolling in follow-on courses

Multisemester courses typically use the same textbook, though you may have different instructors from semester to semester. CourseCompass makes it easy to enroll in the second semester of a multisemester course after you have completed the first semester.

Check with your instructor to ensure that your next semester's course uses the same online course materials as the previous semester. If it is, you do not need a new access code to enroll. You do, however, need a new course ID for the second semester course.

To enroll in the second semester of a multisemester course:

1. Log in to CourseCompass.
2. On the My CourseCompass page, do one of the following:
 - o Click Enroll in Another Course in the Courses area.
 - o Click Details next to any course in the Courses area, then click Enroll in Another Course.
 - o Click Account Summary in the top-right corner, then click Enroll in Another Course.
3. Enter the course ID for the second semester course, then click Next.

Note: CourseCompass automatically assigns a course ID number when your instructor creates the course. This number is not related to the course number assigned by your school.

4. Click Next.
5. Click Enter Course Now.
