

“The challenge of leadership is to be strong, but not rude; be kind but not weak; be bold but not bully; be thoughtful, but not lazy; be humble, but not timid; be proud, but not arrogant, have humor, but without folly.” – Jim Rohn

LEARNING and LEADERSHIP

Orientation Experience

May 29-30th, 2008

Participation in this orientation experience is one of the requirements of the EdD in Learning and Leadership program. The orientation experience is one of the times during the program when all doctoral faculty and learners meet together.

During the orientation, you will:

- Get acquainted with your cohort peers
- Be introduced to the faculty
- Understand the role and function of the ILLP (Individualized Learning and Leadership Plan) and how it is prepared and evaluated
- Discuss the dissertation and its role in the program

The orientation experience is in conjunction with the on-going Learning and Leadership seminar (EDD 770). The orientation is the first formal activity of the Learning and Leadership doctoral program. We intend for the doctoral program to be one of the most fulfilling and meaningful professional and personal growth experiences that you have had. We welcome the opportunity to embark on this journey with you...
