

University of Tennessee at Chattanooga
Department of Political Science
Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science, Public Administration, and Nonprofit Management invites applications for a tenure track appointment in Public Administration/Nonprofit Management at the Assistant Professor level beginning in Fall 2010. Candidates should be prepared to teach in the undergraduate and in the MPA program. Candidates should hold a PhD in political science, public administration, or a closely related field, with experience in at least two of the following areas: nonprofit management, nonprofit marketing, program planning and evaluation, and international NGOs. Candidates with ABD will also be considered. The department offers a NASPAA accredited MPA program and is committed to academic excellence and public service. Review of applicants will begin on December 1st, 2009, and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should send a resume, three letters of recommendation, and teaching evaluations via email to: facultyvitae@utc.edu, or via regular mail to : Public Administration/Nonprofit Management Search Committee, Department of Political Science # 6356, 615 McCallie Ave, Chattanooga, TN 37403.

The University of Tennessee at Chattanooga is a metropolitan university of over 10,000 students offering baccalaureate degrees in 44 fields, master's in 22, and doctorates in three. Founded as a private university in 1886, it became a primary campus of the University of Tennessee in 1969. Its 100-acre campus is located near downtown Chattanooga, in the center of a very scenic metropolitan area of more than 450,000 people. Chattanooga is a mid-sized city that has been featured in US News and World Report and Parade as one of America's most livable cities. This family-friendly city has gained international attention for its downtown and riverfront development, public and private partnerships, excellent quality of life and reasonable living costs. The university's private endowment, currently valued at more than $100 million, enables UTC to maintain academic excellence beyond that funded by state appropriations.

UTC is an EEO/AA/Title VI and IX/Section 504/ADA/ADEA institution.