(3) Credit Hours

The study of illumination principles, design criteria, and systems applied to architectural interiors. Fall semester. Prerequisite: INTD 2000 or department head approval. Laboratory/studio course fee will be assessed.

PROPOSED CATALOG DESCRIPTION:

INTD 3230 - Interior Systems Design

(3) Credit Hours

The study of illumination principles, design criteria, and systems applied to architectural interiors. Fall semester. Prerequisite: INTD 2000 or department head approval. Laboratory/studio course fee will be assessed.

RATIONALE

INTD 3230 is an Interior Design course that covers a range of interior building systems including lighting, mechanical, electrical and acoustical. By changing the name of the course to Interior Systems Design, the name would more accurately reflect the course content.

POSSIBLE EFFECTS

There would be no economic or pedagogical consequences to the department, college or university. There will be no additional impact to departmental resources.
