

UnifiEd is a community-led movement of parents, teachers, and friends of public schools, united around a shared goal: that every student in Hamilton County will have the opportunity to graduate prepared for a brilliant future. To create a better public education system, we need to be a better public. We believe that if citizens are informed about why education matters, what works in the classroom, and how everyone can help, then we can build better schools. We get involved in education, by getting the public involved.
