Welcome to Introductory Biology!

Each week, review the syllabus section entitled "Schedule of Deliverables" for an overview of the material we will be covering and a list of that week's gradable activities.

If questions arise at any time - Ask! The only truly stupid question is the one left unasked!

I am looking forward to a wonderful collaborative year of learning with you all! ~ Mr. Jurel

Course notifications are enabled by default. In the Course Notification Settings page, you can choose to disable notifications for the course.

Course Notification Settings

✔ Enable Notifications

You are currently receiving notifications for this course. To disable course notifications, use the toggle above.

The Course Notification Settings page also supports granular notifications for the course.

The Notification Preferences page for your account specifies your notification preferences and communication channels for all courses, and preferences are automatically passed down to each course in the Course Notification Settings page.

The screenshot shows two pages from the Canvas LMS interface. The top page is 'Notification Preferences' for user 'Doug Roberts'. It features a sidebar with 'Account' highlighted. The main content area shows notification settings for 'Course Activities' with a table of preferences.

The bottom page is 'Course Notification Settings' for 'Biology 101'. The sidebar has 'Courses' highlighted. It shows a toggle for 'Enable Notifications' which is turned on. Below, a table shows course-level notification settings for 'Course Activities'.

If you change a supported notification preference in the Notification Preferences page, that preference will also be reflected within each course as long as none of the notifications are manually changed.

The Course Notification Settings page only displays the following notification types:

- Course Activities
- Discussions
- Scheduling
- Conferences

Once a notification preference is changed at the course level, the course creates a notification override, meaning it is no longer associated with the preference set in the Notification preferences page. Any additional changes for that notification type must continue to be managed within the course. Notification preferences available within the course are identified by icon: notify immediately, daily summary, weekly summary, and notification turned off.

If SMS notifications are enabled for your account, the page also displays notification types that are not supported.
