OFFICE OF PARTNERSHIPS & SPONSORED PROGRAMS
ANNUAL REPORT

THE UNIVERSITY of TENNESSEE
CHATTANOOGA

FOREWORD

Dr. Gregory Heath Assistant Provost for Research & Engagement

During fiscal year 2010-2011, the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga (UTC) has continued to work towards regional and national recognition as an engaged metropolitan university. Numerous UTC faculty and staff have invested their efforts in cultivating partnerships and pursuing external funding to buttress UTC's mission. The Office of Partnerships and Sponsored Programs has been pleased to support faculty and staff across a diverse spectrum of scholarly endeavor. The investments of effort and expertise that UTC faculty have made will pay dividends for our students, our campus, and our community.

This Annual Report illustrates the breadth and depth of our faculty and staff's commitment to excellence. The faculty and staff represented in these pages have prepared proposals requesting $27,652,297 and have received awards totaling $12,244,975. At a time when federal and state funding for sponsored programs is in decline, UTC faculty and staff have distinguished themselves by successfully competing for external funding. It is noteworthy that the vast majority of grant awards listed in this report are generated through highly competitive, peer-review processes. The Office of Partnerships and Sponsored Programs applauds their success.

The projects outlined in this report represent the broad scope of national and international research, creative endeavors, educational service, technological advances, and a commitment to teaching, learning, and service which have become a hallmark of the UTC campus.

This publication is an important reminder to the UTC community and our constituents of the many committed individuals who advance the mission of this University in terms of the pursuit of knowledge, community service, and institutional advancement. I consider it a privilege to be associated with my UTC colleagues who manifest such productivity and sacrifice in their efforts to promote the scientific, scholarly, pedagogic, and community partnership goals of UTC. Kudos to UTC faculty, staff, and all those at UTC who are dedicated to bringing these important resources to our campus.

FUNCTIONAL AREA DEFINITIONS

Research

Investigation undertaken to expand understanding, broaden the knowledge base, and generate new ideas and insights. Activities may include basic research (theoretical or experimental inquiry without regard to particular applications or potential commercial value). Includes funding for projects where the primary purpose is to acquire or maintain facilities or equipment that will be used primarily for research.

Public Service

Projects that provide non-instructional services that harness UTC's intellectual and cultural resources to benefit individuals and communities external to the institution.

Scholarships or Fellowships

External funding that is fully or primarily used to provide tuition support and/or trainee stipends.

Academic Services

External funding for instructional and training programs offered to UTC students, faculty, staff, or external constituencies. Includes funding for curriculum development, course implementation, enhancements to academic programs, etc.

Institutional Support

External funding for projects that benefit UTC as an institution but do not have a direct impact on the academic program.

Other

External funding for projects that cannot be classified within any of the above categories.

UTC OFFICE OF PARTNERSHIPS & SPONSORED PROGRAMS

The Office of Partnerships and Sponsored Programs seeks to promote academic scholarship and engagement by working with faculty and staff (both individually and in teams) to foster the development of competitive grant proposals and sponsored programs contracts.

We applaud the UTC community of scholars and experts for the activities documented in this report. Our university, community, and world are a better place because of your efforts!

The office performs the following services:

- identifies funding opportunities;
- disseminates grant related information to faculty and administrators;
- organizes and supports the development of grant proposals and budgets;
- facilitates grant writing workshops to assist faculty in developing competitive proposals;
- reviews and approves proposals before submission to ensure compliance with both UTC standards and sponsor requirements;
