

A Context for Quality

What is Quality Arts Education?

May 15-16, 2014

at The University of Tennessee at Chattanooga

As we advocate a place for the arts within a complete curriculum, the need to understand equity of student access to the arts, and the quality of their learning experiences must frame the discussion. At this year's Forum we invite a national dialogue around these questions:

Access

- How are you creating actionable opportunities for equitable access to quality arts education in your community?
- How have you addressed the challenges of access to improve the quality of your programs?

Quality

- How have you developed critical criteria to strengthen the quality of your programs?
- How are the processes of assessing student learning and evaluating teacher effectiveness influencing the quality of your arts programs?

We invite you to bring your ideas and examples to share with a community of committed arts educators, policy makers, and colleagues at the 2014 Arts & Education Forum.

For more information about the Forum, go to www.utc.edu/scea

Or give us a call at 423-425-5205

A Context for Quality

What is Quality Arts Education?

May 18-19, 2012

Proposal Form

Proposals should address specific programs and include details addressing struggles, strategies, and solutions.

Name: _____

Organization: _____

Address: _____

City: _____ State: _____

Zip: _____

Phone: _____

Email: _____

please list a valid email address that you check regularly, as email will be the primary mode of communication regarding Forum details.*

Provide a brief bio for publication (150 words or less)

Briefly describe your program and work in arts integration for publication (200 words or less)

Summarize your session below. How will you address one of the forum's questions? How will you engage participants? (250 words or less)

Please make sure all contact information is correct.
Upon registration, participants will receive a copy of Whitesitt and Franklin's book to review before the event in May.

If you have questions or need assistance with the proposal, please contact us at kim-wheatley@utc.edu or call 423-425-5205