BUDGET AND FINANCIAL PLANNING CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK UTC

The UTC budget and financial planning model will encompass a multi-year strategy linked to institutional priorities, set forth by the UT System, THEC, State of Tennessee, and campus-based strategic planning priorities. National “best practices” for higher education financing, as recommended by the American Council on Education: Higher Education’s New Economics, Center for Policy Analysis, will be closely considered to include:

- 1. Innovations in pricing of education
 - Tuition discounting
 - Differentiated tuition
 - Unbundled fees (specialized fees)
- 2. Budget decentralization
 - Responsibility-centered budgeting
- 3. New Human Resource arrangements
 - Non-tenure line faculty
 - Hiring and retirement innovations
- 4. Revised compensation policies and practices
 - Faculty salary bonuses
 - Staff bonuses
 - Core supplement/step compensation system-CPI adjustments
- 5. Structural reorganization—adaptation to emerging conditions

Institution-wide Issues

1. SACS—People really should have a departmental level understanding of this budget and plan.
2. Open budget hearings—Will have one day dedicated only for open town hall meeting and limited presentations. Chancellor will give budget summary and overview; Vice Chancellors will post presentations to UTC Website.
3. State priorities for higher education: possible restructuring of higher education by the Governor and Legislature.
4. Implementation of a new Campus Master Plan 2010 and Beyond.
