What to do if you are a victim of sexual assault

✦ Get to a safe place.
✦ Talk to someone you trust. Sexual Assault advocates are available through the Women's Center. The advocate can discuss your options and refer you to other services. All identifying information is confidential.
✦ Preserve physical evidence. If at all possible, do not bathe, change clothing, use the restroom or brush your teeth. Collection of evidence is conducted at the Partnership's Rape Crisis Center (Call 423-755-2700)
✦ Seek medical attention. The Partnership can provide basic medical services and evidence collection. Medical services are also provided at Student Health Services. For severe injuries call 911 immediately.
✦ Seek counseling. The trauma of sexual assault can be debilitating to survivors. Through the Counseling & Personal Development Center free and confidential counseling is available to all students.
✦ Report the incident. Students are encouraged to report incidents of sexual assault to the university and the Department of Public Safety. This is NOT a requirement and students have reporting options that can be reviewed in the Women’s Center or the Dean of Students Office.
✦ NOTE: Retaliation against anyone who reports sexual harassment is strictly prohibited. Anyone responsible for retaliation, including the accused party or someone affiliated with the accused party, will be subject to disciplinary action by the University.

Filing a Complaint

Against another Student
In addition to or in lieu of filing a criminal complaint, students who feel they have been the victim of sexual harassment, including sexual assault or misconduct, have the right to file a Title IX even if police conclude they do not have sufficient evidence of criminal violation.

A complaint of sexual harassment against another student may be filed with the Office of Student Judicial Affairs, 399 University Center, 425-4534, and will be handled in accordance with the University’s student disciplinary regulations and procedures, which can be found at http://www.utc.edu/Administration/StudentDevelopment/. Students may be suspended or permanently dismissed as a penalty for sexual harassment.

Against a University Employee
A complaint of sexual harassment against a University employee or other non-student should be filed with the Office of Equity and Diversity and will be handled in accordance with the University’s discrimination complaint procedures, which can be found at www.utc.edu/OfficeOfEquityAndDiversity/FileComplaint.php.

Filing a Criminal Complaint
Victims of sexual assault or misconduct have the right to file criminal complaint by contacting the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga Police Department, 400 Palmetto St., 423-425-4357, or the Chattanooga Police Department, 3410 Amnicola Highway, 423-643-5000. Victims may file criminal complaint before, during, or after the university’s investigation of sexual assault or misconduct.

What is Title IX?
The University of Tennessee is a recipient of federal financial assistance for education activities, and in accordance with provisions of the Education Amendments Act of 1972, all of its education programs and activities are subject to the prohibition of Title IX of that act against discrimination on the basis of gender. University policy prohibits discrimination on the basis of gender in any education program or activity. Additionally, in compliance with state law, the University develops a Title IX implementation plan annually and submits it to the state Comptroller’s office. The University’s state required Title IX plan is produced by the Office of Equity and Diversity and can be found at http://utc.edu/oed/TitleIXHarrassment.php. The Title IX Coordinator monitors the University’s compliance with Title IX.
