Love
 MLK

A week dedicated to student education on and engagement with the MLK District, from April 11-15th.

800 Mixer

Monday April 11, 10 a.m. - 2 p.m. | Heritage Plaza

SGA and the 800, a collective of artists based out of Causeway, invite students to come and doodle on a banner what MLK--the street and the man-- mean to them. This collective drawing of what MLK means to UTC students will then circulate around locations on campus and in the MLK district.

Southern Dialogues

Interactive Film Exhibition
 Thursday April 14, noon - 4 p.m. | University Center (UC)

Students will be able to contribute to an ongoing interactive documentary series covering various issues facing Chattanooga today, including gentrification and housing, public education, Gig City and innovation, and the revitalization of MLK Blvd.

Lunch on the Bessie

Friday April 15, 11 a.m. - 2 p.m. | terrace of the Bessie Smith Cultural Center

UTC students and faculty, as well as Chattanooga and MLK community members, to come out for live music and activities put on by our student organizations just a five minute walk from campus. Free lunch will be provided for a limited time.

A big thanks to our co-sponsors, Jazzanooga, Causeway, and Southern Dialogues!
