Re: Request to change SOC 360 to SOC 357 and cross list it as ANTH 357

Rationales:

As the number of aging population increasing in an alarming rate in recent years, the social and cultural studies of aging or gerontology has become a rather demanding field. To provide an adequate introduction of social and cultural studies of aging to our majors in both sociology and anthropology, we would like to make a request for following changes:

- 1) Change the course number SOC 360 to SOC 357
- 2) Cross list SOC 355 as ANTH 357

The number change is requested because ANTH 360 already exists.

Proposed New Catalog Description for ANTH 357

A basic course in social and cultural studies of aging using multidisciplinary and comparative approaches to provide a comprehensive introduction to the human experience of aging. Prerequisite: Anthropology 152 or 208 or Sociology 151 or 215 or approval of the instructor.
