INTRODUCTION

Thank you for taking time to review the Handbook for International Students and Scholars at the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga. This handbook was prepared by the Office of International Student and Scholar Services within the Center for Global Education. We hope that you find the information within this handbook helpful during your time studying at UTC.

The Office of International Student and Scholar Services provides a broad range of support services, educational outreach, and cultural programming to the UTC community. Our highly trained and experienced advisors organize events such as international student orientation, international tea time, workshops, cultural talent shows, and more. In this handbook, you will find information on many topics, from immigration policies and regulations to U.S. culture and the services offered at UTC.

We look forward to working with you, and we wish you a successful experience here at UTC.

Kind regards and Go Mocs!

If your personal information changes (such as address or phone number):

WAYS TO GET INVOLVED IN OUR OFFICE

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT AND SCHOLAR SERVICES
We have many ways to get involved with our office. To learn more, visit this website:
utc.edu/international-students/get_involved/

INTERNATIONAL BUDDY PROGRAM
The International Buddy Program (IBP) exists to help new international students adjust to life in a new country. The IBP pairs one current UTC domestic student with two new international students. Domestic buddies help their international buddies transition into U.S. culture, especially during the first few weeks of the semester. Domestic buddies also benefit from this program by gaining new friends and insights into other cultures.

GO GLOBAL THEMED LIVING COMMUNITY
The Go Global housing community allows returned study abroad students, international exchange students, and ESL students from all over the world to live with and learn from one another. International and domestic Go Global students live on campus in Stophe1 Apartments.

INTERNATIONAL ORIENTATION LEADERS (IOL)
International Orientation Leaders (IOLs) help welcome new international students to UTC campus and into the Chattanooga community.

INTERNATIONAL TEA TIME
Our office hosts International Tea Times throughout the semester. These allow both international and domestic students to socialize over different types of teas, making friends through cultural exchange.

NASHVILLE AND ATLANTA TRIPS
Our office offers fun and educational trips to nearby cities such as Nashville and Atlanta. These trips are a great opportunity to meet other international and domestic students and learn more about U.S. culture.

INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION WEEK
Every year, our office hosts a week full of activities and events during International Education Week. During this week, students can celebrate cultural diversity and international education through a trivia night, a talent show, a public speaking contest, a soccer tournament, and more.

HISTORY OF UTC
The University of Tennessee at Chattanooga (UTC) was founded in 1886 as a private school under the name Chattanooga University. In 1889, the university was combined with a religiously affiliated school and named Grant University. Eighteen years later, Grant University became the University of Chattanooga. The university remained private for 83 years until it joined the University of Tennessee system in 1969 to form the UTC campus.

UTC is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC) and is dedicated to helping students succeed in their academic and personal endeavours by providing a nurturing environment, a welcoming community, and valuable opportunities.

The Office of International Student and Scholar Services plays an important role in fulfilling the University’s mission to achieve “…excellence by actively engaging students, faculty and staff; embracing diversity and inclusion; inspiring positive change; and enriching and sustaining our community.”

BANKING

Budgeting will be an important part of your time studying in the U.S. Before leaving your home country, pay attention to the exchange rate between your country’s currency and the U.S. dollar. Learn to think in dollars. Do not carry large amounts of cash. You may open a checking account after arriving in the U.S.

UTC strongly recommends that you notify your bank in your home country that you will begin accessing your account from a new location. Some banking options near campus are listed to the right. Before opening an account, check with your home bank to find out if it is affiliated with any Chattanooga banks.

Please note that our office does not endorse these banks and only lists them as available options.

U.S. CULTURE

U.S. culture may be very different from that of your home country. We suggest that you become familiar with some U.S. cultural practices to prepare yourself for life at UTC and in Chattanooga. Here are some online resources:
