

Ricardo House is the graduate student residence at the Oxford Centre for Hebrew and Jewish Studies. On each of its two floors there are eight large single bedrooms, arranged in two suites of four. The rooms are fully furnished with a single bed, wardrobe, desk, chair, bookshelf, lamps, and night table.

Each room also has a wardrobe with a wash basin.

The suites each have 1 ½ baths and a full, furnished kitchen.

There is also a common room on both the lower and upper floors with comfortable sofas, tables, and a TV with VCR/DVD player.

Upstairs Common Room

Downstairs Common Room

The rooms in Ricardo House are light and airy although, like other buildings on the OCHJS campus, without air conditioning. This is not usually a problem.