RE: Changes to the Prerequisites to HHP 3620 and HHP 3640

The following action is requested by HHP Department:

Change the Prerequisites for HHP 3620 Psychology of Sport and Exercise and HHP 3640 Sociology of Sport

Rationale: The HHP Department originally proposed HHP 3620 Psychology of Sport and Exercise and HHP 3640 Sociology of Sport with prerequisites to help keep students on track for graduation. It was also the desire of the department to have these classes approved to fulfill General Education Requirements in the Behavioral and Social Science Category. However, under the new guidelines, General Education classes should not have prerequisites. In an effort to assist our students in fulfilling their General Education Requirements and increase their elective hours, the department is requesting removal of the prerequisites for these classes. Many of the HHP students pursue graduate school. The increase in elective hours will help them complete any classes needed for graduate school and keep their program at 120 hours.

Impact on HHP Department: an increased number of students in each section of the classes.

The Department has sufficient resources to meet the increased demand for the classes.

Impact on other Departments: None

3620 Psychology of Sport and Exercise COURSE DESCRIPTION: Emphasis upon exercise science, health and leisure sport as a psycho-cultural force; psychological concepts, values and research as applied to exercise science, health, leisure studies and sport. This course meets the General Education requirement in Behavioral and Social Science. PREREQUISITES: HHP 2999 and a minimum 2.5 overall GPA or department head approval.	3620 Psychology of Sport and Exercise COURSE DESCRIPTION: Emphasis upon exercise science, health and leisure sport as a psycho-cultural force; psychological concepts, values and research as applied to exercise science, health, leisure studies and sport.
