Assessment and Evaluation

1. Provide two examples of pre/post-instructional data for a class of students. If applicable, use state mandated tests as one example. Describe the amount of student progress exhibited and how your conclusions were used to make instructional decisions. (In analyzing data, observable trends should be described. Classroom examples should be more specific. You may attach copies of the assessments).

| Pre-Instructional Data | Post-Instructional Data | Conclusions |

2. How do you communicate student achievement and progress to students, parents, and appropriate others? Describe and/or provide examples.

Professional Growth

3. A collaboration is defined as an intellectual endeavor where two or more educators share with each other and gain professional knowledge from each other. Discuss two relevant examples of collaborative professional development you have participated in within the last five years.

| Collaborative Activity and Date | Purpose of Collaboration | Results of the Collaboration |
|---------------------------------|--------------------------|------------------------------|

2. Use the chart provided below to provide information regarding 2 of your most useful professional growth opportunities. Include a description of your application of this professional growth in your classroom as well as information regarding any professional leadership with colleagues which might have resulted from your growth.

| Professional Development Activity and Date | Application and Leadership which have resulted from the Professional Development Activity |
