(Descriptions for Special Topics courses are not available in the UTC Graduate Catalog or through the UTC main class schedule.)

MKT 5000R Special Topics: Opportunity Assessment

Course Description: Students will learn the practical applications of business and marketing research, strategy development and implementation, and the foundations of consultative practices and processes. This is an applied learning course that will build students' understanding through course materials, assignments, and online discussions, as well as the application of course concepts as they engage with and serve business clients. Students will be expected to work within an interdisciplinary team to complete research projects, including collaborative efforts to scope research projects, collect and analyze data and information, and synthesize analysis in professional deliverables. Students taking this course will be required to meet with clients. Client meetings will equate to 6-8 hours total, take place via Zoom, and will be scheduled at everyone's convenience. The bulk of the course is delivered through Canvas, Slack and other online tools. This course will be a mix of undergraduate and graduate students with clear expectations for each student level. Each graduate student will be expected to lead a team of undergraduate students on projects. Contact your advisor to apply to take this course and/or to see a full syllabus for the course. Prerequisites: Preference given to students beyond their first semester of the MBA program. Limited number of spots. Selection process based on student's response to interview questions.
